4 THE COURT: #2.00 on the calendar, Anthony Paul
5 Manrique. This is the debtor's motion to reconsider order
6 denying objection to claim #3 filed by U.S. Bank.
7 Appearances, please.

8 MR. CAMPBELL: Good afternoon, Your Honor. This 9 is Greg Campbell on the telephone on behalf of U.S. Bank 10 and Nationstar Mortgage.

11 THE COURT: Your name is Greg Campbell?

12 MR. CAMPBELL: Correct. Appearing for Matthew 13 Clark.

14 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Manrique, can you come 15 forward? State your name.

16 MR. MANRIQUE: My name is Anthony Paul Manrique
17 and we're just waiting for our attorney. She's right 18 around the corner, I guess.

19 THE COURT: Okay. So Ms. Douglas is not here.
20 Not yet, and she's on the way.

21 MR. CAMPBELL: Yeah. She's out the door I guess
22 with the Court.

23 THE COURT: Okay. Mr. Campbell, Ms. Douglas is 24 not here yet but I think she's on the way, so we're going 25 to take a little break. We're going to go off the record

Page

1 and then we'll reconvene when Ms. Douglas gets here. All 2 right. So hang on --

3 MR. CAMPBELL: No problem. Thank you, Your 4 Honor.

5 THE COURT: Okay. All right. So we're going to 6 go off the record for a few minutes and we'll be -- we'll 7 come back on matter #2.00 when Ms. Douglas gets here.

8 MR. MANRIQUE: Thank you.

9 (Off the record.)

10 THE CLERK: Please be seated and come to order.
11 The court is again in session.

12 THE COURT: Good afternoon. We're back on the 13 record. Court's 1:30 p.m. calendar on March 17th, #2.00, 14 Anthony Paul Manrique.

15 MS. DOUGLAS: Good afternoon.

16 THE COURT: Am I pronouncing right at this time?

17 MS. DOUGLAS: Yes.

18 THE COURT: This is debtor's motion to reconsider
19 order denying rejection to claim.

20 MS. DOUGLAS: Yes, Your Honor. Thank you very 21 much. Dana M. Douglas for the debtor.

22 THE COURT: Good afternoon.

23 On the phone?

24 MR. MANRIQUE: Good afternoon, Your Honor. Greg 25 Campbell on behalf of U.S. Bank and Nationstar Mortgage.

Page

1 THE COURT: Good afternoon. So my general
2 tentative ruling is to deny, but I want to hear what both 3 parties have to say, so this is your client's motion, so 4 Ms. Douglas, go ahead.

5 MS. DOUGLAS: Your Honor, I appreciate that.
6 Even after the last hearing my sense was that your intent 7 was to deny the motion. But what the debtor is trying to 8 assert here is that there are sufficient deficiencies in 9 the pedigree of this loan. And while ordinarily what the 10 showing may have been sufficient to say, yes, there's a 11 claim here and at the moment they feel they hold it, we're 12 not convinced that that's the case and the debtor would 13 like to pursue that issue.

14 THE COURT: Okay. I will at length go over my 15 ruling eventually, but is there anything else that you wish 16 to state now or --

17 MS. DOUGLAS: No, we had asked the Court to take 18 judicial notice just of the recent ruling in regard to Eva 19 Nova (phonetic) because at the time of the last hearing my 20 general sense of one of your issues with this objection to 21 claim was whether the debtor had standing to make such an 22 objection. And I think that the Eva Nova decision does 23 address that particular issue. While he's not complaining 24 about a foreclosure sale that has already occurred, his 25 deficiencies that he's observed in the mortgage tracks

1 somewhat the deficiencies of Eva Nova and for that reason 2 we would like to have it given for the consideration.

3 THE COURT: And I'm aware of the case. I read it 4 when it first came out. And I don't think anyone is 5 challenging the debtor's right to -- initially to have 6 objected to this claim, which happened in November or -- I 7 don't think anyone is challenging now that the debtor has 8 the right to bring this motion for reconsideration. The 9 California Supreme Court decision only goes to standing.

10 MS. DOUGLAS: Yes.

11 THE COURT: And I agree debtor inside of 12 bankruptcy/outside of bankruptcy as a borrower has standing 13 to raise those issues. You know, I have other issues with 14 respect to this motion, but why don't I hear from 15 Mr. Campbell first?

16 MR. CAMPBELL: Thank you, Your Honor. As stated
17 in our opposition, the motion to reconsider raises the same 18 argument, the same evidentiary objections that were either 19 raised in the prior hearing or could have been raised at 20 the prior hearing. The debtor thought the court had 21 committed a legal error or mistake in overruling the 22 objection to claim. The debtor should have filed the 23 timely appeal. Rather, the debtor chose to file a motion 24 under Rule 60(b) which has its own set of rules and, as we 25 stated in our opposition, this evidence really isn't new.

1 That evidence was available prior to the hearing when it
2 was available prior to the bankruptcy even filed. The two 3 documents the debtor attached were available and the debtor
4 failed to claim why absent due diligence to only 5 discover -- be able to discover them now.

6 We disagree the evidence is such a magnitude that 7 it would change this court's ruling.

8 THE COURT: Um-hum.

9 MR. CAMPBELL: The creditor has already 10 established that the party is entitled to force the note 11 under state law and we obtained a proof of claim.

12 THE COURT: Okay. Anything else, Mr. Campbell?

13 MR. CAMPBELL: I would add that with respect to 14 allegations regarding misrepresentation or fraud the 15 debtor's motion failed to complete any elements of fraud.

16 THE COURT: Okay. Ms. Douglas, anything else?

17 MS. DOUGLAS: No, Your Honor. I don't have 18 anything new --

19 THE COURT: Okay.

20 MS. DOUGLAS: -- that I can offer.

21 THE COURT: Okay. So my tentative is to deny 22 this motion and, you know, I'm going to stick with the 23 tentative for a variety of reasons, both procedurally and 24 also substantively and -- so bear with me here. I didn't 25 write this down in any coherent notes, so I'm just going to

8

1 sort of go through this one at a time.

2 One, overall I am a little bit confused and sort
3 of disappointed. Ms. Douglas, I know you are -- you -- I
4 have not met you before, before I became a judge, but I do 5 know you from other concerns. You're a lawyer. You have 6 been an outstanding consumer debtor (phonetic) lawyer in 7 southern -- in the Central District of California for many 8 years.

9 As I read the debtor's motion, I am very confused
10 and disappointed in the quality of the work. You don't 11 have to answer this, but I always get the sense that you 12 didn't write it; Mr. Manrique wrote it because there are 13 parts of this motion that is incomprehensible, does not 14 make sense. It doesn't even tell me what the argument is.
15 It just sort of rambles on and abruptly stops and moves on 16 to another argument.

17 So one of the things that I am doing as part of 18 this ruling is -- and I shouldn't have to do this because 19 Mr. Manrique is represented by counsel -- when you have pro
20 se debtors oftentimes courts very liberally construe
21 arguments and pleadings by pro se debtors. I really 22 shouldn't have to do that here because the debtor is 23 represented by a very experienced counsel. But in order 24 for me to really fully vet the debtor's motion and the 25 opposition I really feel like I have to read things

1 liberally and broadly because a lot of the arguments don't 2 make any sense to me. But with that, I'm going to give you 3 my ruling one by one.

4 I just right off the bat, the only section of 5 Rule 60(b) that the debtor really cites to is Rule 60(b)(6) 6 which is sort of the catch-all provision, rather than 7 specific sections that precedes (b)(6). And -- but yet 8 debtor does go on and make arguments that appears to fall 9 within other subsections.

10 So just on that basis I -- some judges may just 11 deny this because the debtor's motion did not specifically 12 cite to the appropriate ruling under 60(b). But once 13 again, reading the debtor's motion very broadly and 14 substantively I would still deny this motion. First, if I
15 treat it, this says a motion for reconsideration under Rule
16 60(b)(2) you need new discovery evidence. Newly discovered 17 evidence has to be new that did not exist or the debtor was 18 not aware of it, that could not have found it with 19 reasonable diligence within the time that the debtor could 20 have filed a motion for a new chil -- Rule 59(b).

21 As I look at these documents, the voluminous
22 documents that the debtor has filed, these are Form AK's 23 filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission, these 24 documents are dated year 2007. And I'm well aware of the 25 fact that the Securities and Exchange Commission has a

1 website EDGAR. It's free. You don't even have to pay any 2 money, unlike PACER. These documents were available since 3 2007, so it's really hard for me to believe that the debtor 4 could not have discovered these documents -- could not have 5 discovered these documents with reasonable due diligence 6 within the time period required under -- for -- to move for 7 a new trial under Rule 59(b).

8 But even if -- and that's not true. As I look at 9 these Form AK's that the debtor has submitted as Exhibit A 10 and B and reading the debtor's argument, the argument
11 doesn't make any sense. The debtor just -- debtor really 12 doesn't tell me why these documents are important or why it 13 would have altered the outcome. Debtor just sort of refers 14 to various sections of the AKs in Exhibit A and B and it 15 goes -- and I think specifically debtor emphasizes that the 16 cutoff date for the Securities agent was sometime in 17 August. One is August 1, 2007; another one is August 31, 18 2007. When I look at the promissory note that we have 19 here, it's dated June 2007.

20 I think the argument that is being raised in 21 state court that the California Supreme Court only ruled on 22 the standing issue, not on the substantive issue, the 23 merit. The argument could be that by the mortgage 24 securities agent's own documents, the securitization closed 25 on August 1, 2007, and if the promissory notes are dated

1 after August 1, 2007 by their own documents, this 2 promissory note could not have been part of the 3 securitization.

4 But here, the promissory note is June 2007. It 5 predates the closing of the securitization. So -- and the 6 debtor never really says why I should look at these 7 arguments. So once again, I'm reading these very broadly 8 and trying to come up with argument that the debtor didn't 9 really say in the motion. But if that's the argument, the 10 debtor fails, too. Even if these are newly discovered 11 evidence that the debtor could not have gained access to 12 with reasonable due diligence, on the substance this 13 doesn't make any sense. So I --

14 MS. DOUGLAS: The debtor's argument is that --

15 THE COURT: And -- um-hum.

16 MS. DOUGLAS: -- they weren't transferred to the 17 entity until the period closed -- had already closed.

18 THE COURT: Well --

19 MS. DOUGLAS: And that's why they don't.

20 THE COURT: Um-hum.

21 MS. DOUGLAS: That's why the claim fails.

22 THE COURT: Right. But if that's the argument
23 the motion doesn't say it. And there's no other evidence 24 that the debtor has presented as part of this motion for 25 reconsideration to show me, even though the promissory note

1 is dated June 2007, when it was acquired.

2 MS. DOUGLAS: The problem is that we had reviewed 3 that information in the objection itself showing that the 4 transfers and the assignments didn't occur until well after 5 that time.

6 THE COURT: Once again, substantively the debtor
7 is wrong. The deed of trust was not assigned until a later 8 date, but the promissory note could have been. And I don't 9 know today sitting here right now before August 1, 2007 10 whether or not this promissory note was transferred into 11 the securitization. I don't know that. It is the debtor's 12 burden to prove to me it was or was not transferred to the 13 securitization. Debtor -- there's no evidence here 14 whatsoever neither in the objection to claim or today in 15 the motion for reconsideration to show me whether or not in 16 that promissory note -- this promissory note was 17 transferred to the securitization trust. Only thing the 18 debtor is arguing is the assignment of the deed of trust 19 and that's just different.

20 MS. DOUGLAS: The problem is that there is no 21 evidence that the note ever transferred to the entity that 22 claims it. That is the problem.

23 THE COURT: Well, that is the debtor's problem
24 but it's not my problem or U.S. Bank's problem. The proof 25 of claim has proven facia valid, so there is a presumption

1 of validity. It is the debtor's burden to prove to me why 2 it -- it's not valid. Debtor can't just say because 3 there's no evidence the securitization acquired this 4 promissory note before August 1, 2007, it's not valid.
5 That's not how this works. The debtor has to have evidence
6 to rebut the presumption in the proof of claim that U.S.
7 Bank has the right to assert a claim, that it is the 8 beneficiary, and this note was properly acquired by the 9 securitization trust.

10           You know, debtor has to show me something, some 11 evidence to indicate the promissory note was not 12 transferred by the closing of the securitization or that 13 some other lender today is asking the debtor to pay money.
14 And I have seen no evidence of that either in connection 15 with the objection to claim or in connection with this 16 motion for reconsideration. I've said this over and over 17 again. If the debtor can show me invoices from someone 18 else asking him, pay your mortgage to me rather than U.S.
19 Bank or Nationstar as a servicer --

20           MS. DOUGLAS: You have said that. I agree.

21           THE COURT: -- I would be very happy to consider 22 the debtor's argument, but there's nothing here. So o 23 procedurally under Rule 60(b)(2) I don't think these are 24 newly discovered evidence. I think these documents existed 25 as of 2007. They are publicly available for free on the

1 Securities and Exchange Commission's website, so they're 2 not newly discovered evidence.

3 And also, substantively even if I would consider 4 it, you know, they're not newly discovered. I don't think 5 the debtor exercised due diligence in discovering this and 6 the newly discovered evidence must be of such magnitude 7 that production of it earlier would have likely changed the 8 outcome. It would not have changed the outcome. Even if I 9 saw these documents from the very beginning on the 10 objection to claim hearing, I -- my decision would not 11 change because these documents don't say anything to me
12 other than the closing date was August 1, 2007. The other 13 one was August 31, 2007. Promissory note is dated June 14 2007.

15 MS. DOUGLAS: The debtor is asking your 16 permission to speak to you.

17 THE COURT: No.

18 MS. DOUGLAS: On the record.

19 THE COURT: No.

20 MS. DOUGLAS: May I have -- may I have a moment?

21 THE COURT: Well, I -- no, I'm giving my ruling.

22 MS. DOUGLAS: Okay.

23 THE COURT: And then you'll have an opportunity 24 to speak.

25 MS. DOUGLAS: Okay.

15

1 THE COURT: So I'm denying this both procedurally
2 and substantively under Rule 60(b)(2).

3 On 60(b)(3), misrepresentation by the opposing 4 party, here once again the debtor really doesn't say there 5 is grounds to reconsider my original ruling based on 6 misrepresentation by the creditor. Once again, I have to 7 read this motion very broadly and I have to sort of 8 formulate an argument for the debtor. And I guess what the 9 debtor is arguing is that U.S. Bank should have disclosed
10 these AKs as part of the proof of claim, that failing to do 11 so is fraud or misrepresentation.

12 Well, one, there is no requirement. U.S. Bank
13 had to attach these documents to the proof of claim. Rule 14 3001 specifies what a secured creditor with a claim against 15 a debtor's principal residence has to provide in its proof
16 of claim and here U.S. Bank or Nationstar as its servicer
17 met all the requirements, provided all the documents 18 necessary to support its claim.

19 So failing to attach these AKs was not a fraud
20 upon the Court --

21 MS. DOUGLAS: Right.

22 THE COURT: -- because there was no requirement
23 to attach them. 60 -- so I'm overruling -- denying the 24 debtor's motion to 60(b)(3).

25 I can also maybe think debtor is asking for

1 reconsideration under Rule 60(b) inadvertent mistake. Once
2 again, debtor doesn't say this is what the debtor is asking 3 for, never cites Rule 60(b)(1), so I'm once again going to 4 go out of my way, broadly interpret and read the debtor's
5 motion that there might have been some confusion or mistake 6 or that the Court made a mistake. But the problem with 7 this argument, 60(b)(1), there was no technical mistake, 8 there was no error in the ruling. The order denying the 9 objection to claim was exactly what I ordered. There was 10 no error by the Court, there was no error by the clerk's 11 office. I guess the debtor is arguing that the original 12 ruling was so bad that I erred that that's grounds for 13 motion for reconsideration.

14 Well, there's a problem with that. If that was 15 the debtor's position, Mr. Manrique should have just filed 16 an appeal. The deadline to appeal is gone now. Filing 17 this motion does not reopen the deadline to appeal, does 18 not extend or toll the deadline to appeal. That's gone.
19 That order is now final. The arguments that the debtor 20 seems to be raising in his motion for reconsideration he 21 should have raised it in an appeal and, you know, frankly, 22 you know, I don't think there was any mistake. And for 23 example, I think debtor still disagrees with me that this 24 variable note is a negotiable instrument.

25 MS. DOUGLAS: That is true.

1 THE COURT: I am not persuaded that I was wrong;
2 that I'm still right. I believe I'm right. If you think 3 I'm wrong, you should have appealed. You didn't. Now you
4 lost that opportunity to ask the District Court or the BAP
5 to determine whether I was wrong. I think the debtor is 6 upset about some evidentiary objections that I ruled upon 7 at the initial hearing on the objection to claim. Once 8 again, I ruled on those evidentiary objections. If the 9 debtor thought I was wrong, the proper course of action
10 should have been to appeal those rulings. Now the deadline 11 to appeal has lapsed and now you're stuck with my 12 evidentiary rulings.

13 But in any event, I don't think I'm wrong on 14 those evidentiary rulings anyway. I mean, Mr. Manrique I 15 think is slightly confused about what I ruled on and he 16 thinks I ruled that the promissory note was itself a self-17 authenticating document. That was not my ruling. I ruled 18 that the deed of trust and the assignment of deed of 19 trust --

20 MS. DOUGLAS: It was out understanding --

21 THE COURT: -- were --

22 MS. DOUGLAS: -- that you had ruled that the note 23 was a transferrable document and because of the variability
24 and the fact that the full amount owed by its own admission 25 is not known and well changed, that's what --

1 THE COURT: That's not an evidentiary ruling.
2 That was just a ruling --

3 MS. DOUGLAS: No, that is correct.

4 THE COURT: -- on --

5 MS. DOUGLAS: That was just a ruling.

6 THE COURT: -- the law of negotiable instruments 7 under California law. What I did rule based on the 8 evidentiary objection was the assignment of deed of trust 9 and the deed of trust. I think the debtor filed that 10 evidentiary objection on U.S. Bank's client's declaration 11 which had attached assignment of deed of trust evidencing 12 that U.S. Bank is now the proper party in interest to 13 assert this claim. And then my view is, one, I overruled 14 the evidentiary objection as to the declaration
15 authenticating it because I found that declaration to be a 16 declaration that's admissible by a custodian of record.

17 But in any event, the assignment of deed of trust 18 as a publicly-recorded document under California law is 19 itself a self-authenticating document and even if the 20 declaration would be stricken, which I didn't do, that I
21 could just look at the assignment of deed of trust itself 22 as a publicly-recorded document and take judicial notice of 23 that.

24 Debtor, once again, raised some other evidentiary 25 objections in connection with the motion for

1 reconsideration -- I mean, not raise it but rehash some of 2 the arguments and, like I said, that train has already left
3 the station. I already ruled on that evidentiary objection
4 and it's too late. That hearing will -- was in November.
5 I ruled we're moving on. I'm not ruling on these 6 evidentiary objections again. Either one way or another, 7 they are immaterial for purposes of the motion for 8 reconsideration today. But as I reviewed these evidentiary 9 objections, I -- you know, if I have to rule on it today, 10 if today was a hearing in the objection to claim, I would 11 overrule most of that just because the debtor disputes
12 certain allegations in a declaration does not make it 13 inadmissible. Just because debtor says it's incompetent or 14 there's, you know, lack of foundation, I have no idea 15 how -- why or how Mr. Manrique would know whether or not 16 this declaration has personal knowledge or is not the right 17 person to testify. How would he know?

18           There's no deposition transcript showing me that 19 Mr. Manrique had an opportunity to depose the declarant and 20 there's some evidentiary support or factual support that 21 would support his claim that declarant is not the right 22 person to declare it, that there is lack of foundation, the 23 person doesn't have knowledge. Just because he disagreed 24 doesn't make it so. If there was a deposition of U.S.
25 Bank's declarants showing that this declarant really didn't

20

1 know anything, had not reviewed the files and was not 2 actually the right person to make the declaration, maybe 3 there was some credibility in that argument, but in any 4 event, that doesn't -- that's not the case here.

5 And finally, Rule 60(b)(6), that's really the 6 only -- technically the only thing that the debtor argued 7 that any other reason that justified relief. The problem 8 is the Ninth Circuit has interpreted Rule 60(b)(6) as being 9 a completely different argument than the preceding 10 subsection under Rule 60(b).

11 So it has to be something different, independent 12 basis or a motion for reconsideration, not inadvertence or 13 mistake, not newly discovered evidence, not 14 misrepresentation by opposing side. I just don't know what 15 other argument that the debtor is making here. But if 16 debtor under Rule 60(b)(6) is raising all of the other 17 arguments that I've already gone through, which I think fit 18 better under 60(b)(2), 60(b)(3), 60(b)(1), that my ruling 19 would be the same.

20 I don't think there is any basis for a motion for 21 reconsideration here. But, you know, really the thing that 22 troubled me the most about this motion is the fact that 23 other than the two AKs that are attached as Exhibit A and B 24 to Mr. Manrique's declaration in support of the motion for 25 reconsideration, every other argument in the motion for

1 reconsideration are really rehashing the argument that were 2 raised or should have been raised in connection with the 3 original objection to claim. I've already ruled on it.
4 Don't like it. You disagree with it. You should have 5 appealed it. There is no appeal. The deadline to appeal
6 has lapsed, so there's -- I don't know if there's anything
7 more that I can say about that today other than the fact
8 that a motion for reconsideration is an improper procedure 9 to try to preserve issues for appeal.

10           So that's sort of my ruling. I'm going to deny 11 this motion. And as I've said several times, I see this 12 types of argument by debtors all the time. And I just told 13 the debtor yesterday she had missed 101 payments. She was 14 fighting a motion for relief from stay and she raised the 15 same arguments almost identical to this. "I don't know who 16 this lender is. I borrowed money from Countrywide. I 17 understand Countrywide became B of A. I have no idea who 18 this servicer is and we don't think this trust is a valid 19 entity that can hold promissory notes," a lot of the same 20 arguments that I share -- that I'm hearing from Mr.
21 Manrique today and I heard in connection with the objection 22 to claim.

23           I told her and I told Mr. Manrique before, if 24 U.S. Bank is not the lender, who is it? If you don't know 25 who the lender is and no one else is asking for payment,

1 why do you believe U.S. Bank is not the lender? I don't 2 know. I don't know the answer to that question, but I'm 3 always, you know, sort of -- I always ask this question to 4 the debtors. The debtors don't know either. The debtors 5 don't know the answer to that either.

6 MS. DOUGLAS: He actually has very, very definite 7 reasons why he doesn't believe that they -- it belongs to 8 them. And if you would give me just one quick --

9 THE COURT: Sure. Go ahead.

10 MS. DOUGLAS: -- moment to --

11 THE COURT: Sure. Go right ahead.

12 (Pause)

13 All right. Ms. Douglas, let's go ahead.

14 MS. DOUGLAS: I apologize, Your Honor. The 15 issue, quite frankly, is that although I haven't seen them, 16 the debtor has evidenced that the note that the SEC
17 received is not endorsed, whereas Countrywide or -- yes, 18 Countrywide has produced a note that is endorsed.
19 Countrywide is gone. He's apparently had numerous 20 conversations with the SEC regarding the trust. The 21 problem is that evidence is not here. And I don't know a 22 mechanism to get it here at this point.

23 THE COURT: There's nothing that I can do or 24 Mr. Manrique can do or U.S. Bank can do about that. All 25 I'm doing -- in fact, in my ruling on the objection to

1 claim and my ruling on today's motion for reconsideration
2 is not a legal determination that U.S. Bank is the lender
3 or that U.S. Bank, all of the transfers that took place, 4 that gave U.S. Bank the right to file a proof of claim here 5 and assert itself as a creditor -- a secured creditor in 6 this case, I'm not making any legal determination that what 7 they did is correct. I'm just saying as -- for purposes of 8 this bankruptcy that U.S. Bank has -- that proof of claim 9 has a presumption of validity at the objection to claim 10 hearing debtor did not produce sufficient evidence to 11 really shift the burden back to the U.S. Bank, which is why 12 I denied the objection to claim. And today I'm for the 13 most part denying this motion for reconsideration on 14 procedural grounds, that this is improper, that under Rule
15 6(b) this motion does not meet any of the requirements. I 16 don't think it's timely under (6)(b). Doesn't meet any of 17 the other -- the subsections under (b).

18 Rule 60(b), that gives the debtor the right for a 19 motion for reconsideration. A lot of the arguments are 20 just rehashing of the arguments that were already raised 21 and I ruled upon in the objection to claim. And I think 22 the type of argument that the debtor is raising are exactly 23 the type of argument that is in the California Supreme 24 Court case that has been remanded back to trial court that 25 they are going to litigate.

24

1 MS. DOUGLAS: Yes.

2 THE COURT: And it could very well be that the 3 borrower in that case may prevail and if the borrower in 4 that case prevails, it may open a new avenue for borrowers
5 to pursue that type of litigation. But until that happens, 6 the existing state of law in California on this type of 7 dispute does not look favorable to the debtor. But, you 8 know, my ruling on the motion -- denying the motion for 9 reconsideration today is not an adjudication of the 10 underlying merits, the debtor's argument. And if the 11 debtor is correct -- and, in fact, you know, in that case I 12 forget -- Ivanhoe?

13 MS. DOUGLAS: Eva Nova.

14 THE COURT: Eva Nova. The debtor was already 15 foreclosed.

16 MS. DOUGLAS: Yes.

17 THE COURT: The debtor -- the borrower in that 18 case is suing for wrongful foreclosure.

19 MS. DOUGLAS: Right.

20 THE COURT: So even after you lose your house you
21 have a legal right to litigate. Here, you know, 22 Mr. Manrique can propose a plan, pay U.S. Bank. Ultimately 23 if Eva Nova case opens an avenue that allows him and other 24 borrowers to sue their lenders for improperly collecting 25 mortgage payments or foreclosing he can't because --

25

1 MS. DOUGLAS: I know that. This is not --

2 THE COURT: Right. This is not --

3 MS. DOUGLAS: -- defeating that. It's just a
4 claim --

5 THE COURT: Right.

6 MS. DOUGLAS: -- in the bankruptcy.

7 THE COURT: Right. Mr. Manrique has his rights
8 and, you know, rather than pursuing his claim here before a 9 bankruptcy judge on what mostly is a state court claim, 10 there Mr. Manrique can sue in Superior Court or maybe wait 11 for Eva Nova case to go to trial in state court and see how 12 things turn out.

13 MS. DOUGLAS: Exactly.

14 THE COURT: So I'm not a lawyer anymore. I can't 15 advise Mr. Manrique, but for today I'm just denying his 16 motion for reconsideration. I'm not ruling that U.S. Bank 17 did everything right or properly. I'm not foreclosing the 18 debtor's rights to challenge this in some other way or 19 venue. He just can't litigate this in the context of an 20 objection to claim.

21 MS. DOUGLAS: And I --

22 THE COURT: And it's not before me.

23 MS. DOUGLAS: And I appreciate that clarity, Your 24 Honor.

25 THE COURT: Sure. So the motion is denied.

26

1 Mr. Campbell, if you can just prepare a very 2 quick order.

3 MR. CAMPBELL: No problem, Your Honor. Thank 4 you.

5 THE COURT: Okay. All right. Anything else for 6 today?

7 MS. DOUGLAS: No, Your Honor. We have the status
8 conference coming up, then a plan due to be filed in about 9 40 days, so we have plenty ahead of us.

10 THE COURT: Sure. Great. All right. That 11 concludes the Court's 1:30 p.m. calendar. We can go off 12 the record.

13 MS. DOUGLAS: Thank you, Your Honor.

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
CENTRAL DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA
SOUTHERN DIVISION

IN RE ANTHONY PAUL MANRIQUE

Case No.: ED CV 16-0708-DOC

ORDER DENYING APPEAL OF BANRUPTCY COURT'S ORDERS

Before the Court is Anthony Paul Manrique's ("Manrique" or "Appellant") Appeal of the Bankruptcy Court's Order Overruling Debtor's Objection to Proof of Claim No. 3 Filed by U.S. Bank National Association and the Bankruptcy Court's Order Denying Debtor's Motion to Reconsider Order Denying Claim Objection (Dkt. 1). Pursuant to Bankruptcy Rule 8019, the Court heard oral argument on November 16, 2016. The Court DENIES the Appeal.

I. BACKGROUND

On June 27, 2007, Appellant and Alisa Arlene Manrique obtained a loan ("Loan") in the principal amount of $388,000.00 from Country Wide Loan, Inc. Opening Br. Appendix ("Op'n. Br. App'x") (Dkt. 14) at 80.<sup>1</sup> On January 26, 2015, Manrique filed for voluntary Chapter 11. Opening Br. App'x, Ex. 1. On March 6, 2015, U.S. Bank National Association ("U.S. Bank" or "Appellee") filed a proof of claim. Reply Brief, Ex. A. In that Proof of Claim, U.S. Bank made a claim for $492,647.50 against the bankruptcy estate. See id. As part of the Proof of Claim, U.S. Bank provided documentation to show that the deed of trust for the Loan had been transferred to them. See id. at 41–42.

On July 27, 2015, Manrique filed Objection to Proof of Claim No. 3 Filed by U.S. Bank National Association ("Objection"). Id. at 45. As relevant here, Manrique argued that (1) the proof of claim stated U.S. Bank was entitled to payments that Manrique had already made; (2) U.S. Bank failed to "provide a requested accounting of the life of the loan that would enable Debtor to be certain of the amounts claimed as principal and interest on the loan;" and (3) U.S. Bank failed to establish conclusively who actually owned the note and deed of trust. Id. at 46.

U.S. Bank filed their Response to Manrique's objections on September 23, 2015. Op'n. Br. App'x at 110. Manrique filed his Reply to U.S. Bank's Response on October 15, 2015. Id. at 172. On October 29, 2015, the Bankruptcy Court held a hearing on Manrique's Objection, id. at 273, and on November 16, 2015 the Bankruptcy Court entered an Order Overruling it, id. at 269.

<sup>1</sup> Appellant filed "Exhibits." However, through no fault of Appellant's, it is difficult to locate each exhibit as many of the documents have been marked as exhibits previously and contain numerous exhibits themselves. For ease of reference, the Court will refer to Exhibits to the Opening Brief as an Appendix and will use the Bates numbers in the lower right hand corner as the page numbers wherever possible. In some instances, the Court will refer to Exhibits because the pages are unnumbered.

1 On January 15, 2016, Appellant filed a Motion for Reconsideration of the Court's Order
 2 Overruling Manrique's Objection. Id. at 285. In that Motion, Manrique argued primarily that 3 U.S. Bank had failed to prove that they owned the Deed of Trust.

4 On March 3, 2016, U.S. Bank filed its Opposition to the Motion for Reconsideration. Id.
 5 at 1735. On March 15, 2016, Manrique filed a Request for Judicial Notice in Support of the 6 Motion for Reconsideration, attaching a California Supreme Court case, Yvanova v. New 7 Century Mortgage Corporation, 62 Cal. 4th 919 (2016). Id. at 1778–1810. U.S. Bank objected 8 to the Request for Judicial Notice on the grounds that the filing was late, and that Yvanova was 9 irrelevant to the arguments raised in Manrique's Request for Judicial Notice. Id. at 1815–16.
 10 On April 7, 2016, the Bankruptcy Court denied Appellant's Motion for Reconsideration. Id. at 11 1824–25.

12 On April 14, 2016, Manrique appealed the Bankruptcy Court's Order Overruling 13 Debtor's Objection to Proof of Claim No. 3 Filed by U.S. Bank National Association and the 14 Bankruptcy Court's Order Denying Debtor's Motion to Reconsider Order Denying Claim 15 Objection to this Court. Notice of Appeal (Dkt. 1). Appellant filed his Opening Brief on July 16 13, 2016 (Dkt. 14). Appellee filed its Reply Brief on September 12, 2016 (Dkt. 18). Appellant's 17 Reply was due on or before September 26, 2016. See Fed. R. Bankr. P. 8018. No Reply was 18 forthcoming from Appellant.

19 II. LEGAL STANDARD

20 "A bankruptcy court's denial of a motion for reconsideration is reviewed for an abuse of 21 discretion." In re Negrete, 183 B.R. 195, 197 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 1995), aff'd, 103 F.3d 139 (9th 22 Cir. 1996). In the Ninth Circuit, there is a two part test to determine whether a court abused its 23 discretion. United States v. Hinkson, 585 F.3d 1247, 1261–62 (9th Cir. 2009); see also In re
 24 Marciano, 459 B.R. 27, 34 (B.A.P. 9th Cir. 2011), aff'd, 708 F.3d 1123 (9th Cir. 2013)
 25 (applying the two part test to determine if a bankruptcy court abused its discretion). First, an 26 appellate court looks to determine if the lower court applied the correct legal standard. See 27 Hinkson, 585 F.3d at 1261–62. Second, the appellate court determines if the application of the 28 legal standard was "(1) 'illogical,' (2) 'implausible,' or (3) without 'support in inferences that

1 may be drawn from the facts in the record.” Id. at 1292 (citing Anderson v. City of Bessemer
 2 City, N.C., 470 U.S. 564, 577 (1985)).

3 III. DISCUSSION

4 As an initial matter, the Court notes that Manrique’s appeal of the Bankruptcy Court’s 5 Order Denying the Claim Objection is time-barred. All appeals of Bankruptcy orders must be 6 filed within fourteen days of their issuance. Fed. R. Bankr. P. 8002(a)(1). The Order Denying 7 Claim Objection was issued in 2015, and Appellant did not file his notice of appeal until April 8 2016. Appellants appeal is not timely. Although initially technically represented by an attorney, 9 the Court believes Appellant has large had to represent himself. The Court appreciates it is 10 difficult to navigate the bankruptcy rules of procedure without good advice from counsel.
 11 However, “[t]he provisions of Bankruptcy Rule 8002 are jurisdictional; the untimely filing of a 12 notice of appeal deprives the appellate court of jurisdiction to review the bankruptcy court’s 13 order.” In re Mouradick, 13 F.3d 326, 327 (9th Cir. 1994). Therefore, the Court cannot review
 14 the Order Denying the Claim Objection and will review only the Bankruptcy Court’s Order 15 Denying the Motion for Reconsideration.

16 A motion for reconsideration in the bankruptcy context is construed as a motion for 17 relief from a judgment or order under Federal Rule of Civil Procedure Rule 60. In re Negrete, 18 183 B.R. at 197. Rule 60(b) reads:

19 (b) Grounds for Relief from a Final Judgment, Order, or Proceeding. On 20 motion and just terms, the court may relieve a party or its legal 21 representative from a final judgment, order, or proceeding for the following 22 reasons:

- 23 (1) mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect;
- 24 (2) newly discovered evidence that, with reasonable diligence, could
- 25 not have been discovered in time to move for a new trial under Rule
- 26 59(b);
- 27 (3) fraud (whether previously called intrinsic or extrinsic),
- 28 misrepresentation, or misconduct by an opposing party;

(4) the judgment is void;

(5) the judgment has been satisfied, released or discharged; it is based on an earlier judgment that has been reversed or vacated; or applying it prospectively is no longer equitable; or

(6) any other reason that justifies relief.

In his Motion for Reconsideration, Manrique contended (1) that the Loan note was not a negotiable instrument; (2) that the Bankruptcy Court considered evidence that was not properly admissible; (3) the Bankruptcy Court improperly took judicial notice of documents; and (4) U.S. Bank failed to show that it was owed the debt, and therefore should not be able to seek to collect the debt. Id. at 285–301. Manrique also sought to introduce additional documents to support his arguments.

Although at the time of the Motion for Reconsideration Manrique was nominally represented by counsel, the bankruptcy court read the Motion with the same kind of liberality used in reading pro se filings. Op’n. Br. App’x at 1850. The bankruptcy court noted that Manrique cited only Rule 60(b)(6) in his Motion, but the court considered arguments that Manrique might have intended to raise with respect to 60(b)(1), (2), and (3) as well.

As to any Rule 60(b)(1) argument that there was some sort of “mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect,” the court found Manrique had failed to identify any mistake. Id. at 1858. Further, the Court found that to the extent Manrique was asserting generally that the court’s decision was flawed, the proper avenue for relief was an appeal, not motion for reconsideration filed months later. Id. See also In re Negrete, 183 B.R. at 198 (upholding a denial of a motion for reconsideration where the appellant merely challenged the substance of the original ruling.).

Manrique sought to introduce two documents filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. The court found that under 60(b)(2) this evidence was not “newly discovered evidence that, with reasonable diligence, could not have been discovered” before the filing of the original Objection. Id. at 1853. These documents had been freely accessible to the public for many years, and the court determined Manrique should reasonably have known about them at

1 the time of the Objection. Id. Further, the court found that Manrique had not explained how the 2 documents would affect the court's ruling. Manrique made no argument to explain why he had 3 been unable to unearth these documents before then. See id. at 290–93.

4 The court found that under Rule 60(b)(3), Manrique had failed to identify any fraudulent
5 activity by U.S. Bank. Id. at 1857. Instead, the Court found that Manrique appeared to suggest 6 that U.S. Bank ought to have attached additional documents, even though there was no
7 requirement under the relevant rule that U.S. Bank do so. Id. at 1857 (citing Fed. R. Bankr. P.
8 3001).

9 Finally, the court found that as to Manrique's Rule 60(b)(6) argument, Manrique had 10 failed to raise an argument that was separate from Rule 60(b)'s other subsections and would 11 therefore warrant relief under Rule 60(b)(6). See In re Negrete, 183 B.R. at 197 ("Relief from 12 judgment for 'any other reason' under Fed. R. Civ. P. 60(b)(6) should be limited only to 13 exceptional or extraordinary circumstances, and the moving party bears the burden of 14 establishing the existence of such circumstances.").

15 As to the first prong of the abuse of discretion standard, the Court is satisfied that the 16 bankruptcy court properly identified the applicable legal standard. The bankruptcy court 17 specifically cited the Rule 60(b) standard and correctly identified the tests for each sub-part.
18 See Op'n. Br. App'x at 1851–68. Indeed, Appellant does not appear to argue that that the 19 bankruptcy court failed to apply the correct legal standard.

20 Further, the Court does not find that any of the bankruptcy court's determinations were 21 illogical, implausible, without support in inferences that may be drawn from the facts in the 22 record. The Court agrees with the bankruptcy court's conclusion that many of these arguments 23 can only appropriately be raised on direct appeal and that the remaining arguments do not 24 warrant overturning the bankruptcy court's order.

25 In his Opening Brief, Manrique largely focuses on the issue of whether U.S. Bank owns 26 the deed of trust and note, and cites Yvanova, 62 Cal. 4th at 938, in support of his argument. See 27 generally, Op'n. Br. However, these issues are not properly before this Court, so the Court will 28 not review the bankruptcy court's findings on these matters.

IV. DISPOSITION

Manrique's appeal of the Bankruptcy Court's Orders is DENIED. The Clerk shall serve this minute order on the parties.

David O. Carter
